LITTLE FOXES VIEWED AS HUMOROUS SATIRE

Boasting a ten member cast, the Athens College players presented a three act play entitled THE LITTLE FOXES on November 15-18. The play by Lillian Hellman was set in the South, in particular in the living room of the Giddens House, in which the entire action of the play occurred. The play's conflict concerned a struggle of two parties to inherit a certain Southern gentleman's estate. Realizing the attempts to squander his money, this gentleman Horace Giddens counteracts the villains' efforts shortly before he dies. Humorous in its satire, THE LITTLE FOXES was an entertaining display of student and faculty efforts.

The play was directed by Lawrence Saunders, English professor at Athens College. He was assisted by Professor Loren Koslowsky and technical director, and Koslowsky's student technical staff.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT OFFERS VARIETY

The Music Department at A.C., headed by Mr. John Fowler, offers music to the students in a variety of ways. For the potential vocalist (or simply those interested in singing) the Athens College Singers is open to those interested while the Madrigals, an A Capella group, accepts the best qualified singers on campus. For the instrument players, a new band directed by Professor King, encourages those interested. Finally, the music department offers a full range of courses and private lessons.

Athens College Professor Wins Tennessee Music Prize

ATHENS — Jeffrey King, associate professor of music at Athens College, has won first prize in the 1973 Tennessee Technological University Composition contest for his "Manifesto" for symphonic band.

In 1971, King won the Brown University Choral Prize for "a wind has blow the rain away", now published by Boosey and Hawkes. He also won second prize in the 1968 National Federation of Music Clubs contest with "Dialogue for Piano and Chorus."

The premier performance for "Manifesto" was given at the 1971 College Band Directors National Convention in Austin, Texas. The next performance will be May 1 by the University of Redlands Wind Ensemble in Redlands, Calif.

In January, King was elected to Outstanding Educators of America and Personalities of the South. He is a member of the College Music Society, Southeastern Composers League, American Association of University Professors and the American Music Center.

King composition to be performed at UT

"Excursion", a musical work by Jefferey King, is to be heard in a performance by the University of Tennessee Symphonic Wind Ensemble Sunday, May 28, at 4:00 p.m. under the direction of W. J. Julian.

King, assistant professor of music at Athens College, will attend the rehearsal and performance of the work at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

"Excursion" was premiered in 1969 at the Symposium of New Music held at the University of Houston. It is recorded on volume two of the Houston Music Series. In January of this year, "Excursion" was performed by the Indiana State University Symphonic band.

King holds a Master of Music degree in composition which he received from Florida State University, Tallahassee, where he studied under Carlisle Floyd. At Indiana State University, Terre Haute, he studied composition with Jon Polifrone.

"Symphonic Manifesto" is another recorded work by King, available on Crest Records. It was premiered in 1971 at the National Convention of the College Band Directors Association at Austin, Texas.

JEFFREY KING

Musical Setting of Cummings Poem – Athenian's Choral Work Published

ATHENS — A choral setting by Jeffrey King of "A wind has blown the rain away," a poem by E. E. Cummings, was published recently by Boosey and Hawkes, one of the world's most important publishers of classical music.

King is associate professor music at Athens College.

Last year his choral and piano framing of the Cummings poem garnered the first prize in the prestigious music composition contest at Brown University. King won a second place in 1968 in the National Federation of Music Club's composition competition with his work "Dialogue for Piano and Chorus."

Widely performed throughout the South and Southwest, King's music may be heard on six different long-play albums by various musical organizations.

A music professor at Athens College since 1966, King received his B.S. degree from Indiana State University and his master of music degree at Florida State University.

A native of Fort Wayne, Ind., he is a member of the American Association of University Composers, the College Music Society, the Southeastern Composers League, and the American Association of University Professors.

He is married to soprano Sarah Hanna King. They have a daughter, Laura Chloe, and live in Athens.

STUDENT – FACULTY GROUP TOURS MEXICO

A new Mexican friend, a leisurely walk through the stone streets, a new insight into another nationality, a rewarding experience for everyone — these were a few benefits encountered by a student-faculty group who visited Mexico this year. This E-term trip consisted of tours mainly concentrated around Queretaro, Mexico, for several students and a faculty member from Athens College. The students not only studied and practiced their Spanish, but also learned the Mexican customs and living habits under the direction of Mrs. Rogers, Spanish professor.

MAY DAY ACTIVITIES

May Day activities for 1973 began May 4 at 8:00 p.m. with the presentation of the Sesquicentennial Pageant "The Athens Brand of Faith." A reception followed the pageant. On Saturday, activities included a picnic on the cafeteria lawn, a May fete, games, and the crowning of Miss Joan Seibert as May Queen. To end the events, a May Day Dance, sponsored by the S. G. A., was held in the College cafeteria.

GRADUATION

The academic year draws to a close and graduation activities begin. On the day before graduation seniors, parents, and faculty gather on the lawn of the President's home for a Garden Party. The morning of graduation a buffet breakfast is served to the seniors and their families by the faculty.

At 9:30 the processional begins and professors and students file into the seats on Founders Green to hear President Sandridge deliver a charge to the graduates and to receive their diplomas. The 1973-74 President of S. G. A. Rex Cheatham, and the chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Julian Harris, bring greetings to the student body, faculty, parents, and friends. The Reverend Monroe Lewis, Mr. Barrett Shelton, and Bishop Carl J. Sanders receive honorary doctorates. The Community Chorus sings, and one hundred and thirty-five elated seniors join in the Alma Mater.

SOCCER TEAM FINISHES ON WINNING NOTE

The Athens College Soccer Team completed its season on a winning note with back to back victories over Oglethorpe (3-1) and Northern Georgia (6-1). After dropping their first four decisions the Bears (4-5-2) rebounded by losing only one of their last seven matches. The Bears jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first half in both of the last two games. Against Oglethorpe, Cuthbert Mutsiwegota and David Amenu opened the Athens scoring with Steve Wills scoring the long second half goal. In the final game, Mal Frost and Mutsiwegota scored first half goals before a barrage of penalty shots gave the Bears a 6-0 lead late in the game. Northern Georgia broke lose to score with three seconds left in the game.
